

THE WORLD'S FINEST PRE-MADE DIT DA JOWS

Our hand-crafted dit da jows, which not coincidentally are prepared one single batch at a time, combine the energies of some of the most powerful Iron Palm and/or Hand Conditioning formulas in the martial arts. The ingredients in our jows combine herbs found in legendary formulas such as the 600 year old Bak Fu Pai's Coconut Break, the 6th century Buddhist Golden Lotus formula, Hung Gar's ancient Tit Jeung Jow, and the renowned White Crane Dit Da Jow. We have delicately balanced herbs such as: the mender of broken bones Gu Sui Bu, Wu Jia Pi, Mo Yao, Xu Duan, dragon's blood Xue Jie, Tu Bie Chong, Ma Qian Zi, Ru Xiang, San Qi, etc., to create our own iron palm and hand conditioner jows that are -- judging from positive customer feedback -- two of the best premade jows in the world!

WHAT MAKES OUR JOWS WORTHY OF THIS CLAIM?

First, you must consider the source, our jows are real, they are made from classical formulas with lineage that is accurate, and we stake our reputation on it.

Second, there are five important criteria that we never compromise in the preparation of our Imperial Hand Conditioning Elixirs...

The Quality of the Herbs that are used:

Due to their common botanical origin, herbs are subject to the same standards of quality as that of fruit and vegetables. Just as the quality standards used to grade all fruit and vegetables are not necessarily equal the same can be said for Chinese herbs. As with fruits and vegetables herbs are labeled premium, medium grade, as well as lower grades. Here at Treasures From the Sea of Chi, we pride ourselves on always using herbs of the highest grade!

There is a tendency among some producers of hand conditioners to use the least expensive lower grade of herbs in an attempt to increase profit levels ... we only use premium grade herbs because we know that the effectiveness and potency of the dit da jow is significantly influenced by the quality of the herbs used in its preparation.

The Freshness of the Herbs:

The premium quality of herbs that we use in our jows come from fully mature plants that have been grown using strictly controlled seasonal guidelines for planting and harvesting, and optimal soil conditions. The best plants are used while they are fresh, because we know that when herbs are used past their prime, the resulting jow is weaker and less effective.

Proper Aging:

The potency of dit da jows increase with aging, and the longer it is aged the better it will be. Aging occurs best when the herbs and alcohol are mixed together and sealed. Some may tell you that the jow continues to age once it is bottled for sale ...this is incorrect and is merely an excuse to try and sell you improperly aged dit da jow. All of our jows age for a minimum two years.

Proper Aging Vessel:

The vessel or container in which the jow is aged and stored is also extremely important. Some may claim that using plastic bottles or containers is acceptable... Well, it is not! Anyone with experience in making dit da jows will tell you that as the herbal mixture starts to decompose in the plastic -- that it almost melts it -- the decomposing plastic then mixes with the aging jow changing its characteristics! Which is why we only use glass bottles and containers throughout the aging and storing of our jows.

100% Pure:

Our Imperial Hand Conditioning Elixirs are 100% pure (herbs and alcohol), they are never diluted in any way.

seaofchi.com* formulas use only high quality organically grown Chinese herbs and we guarantee their efficacy

By satisfying all of the points of the most stringent criteria we can proudly declare that we produce what is arguably the finest pre-made iron palm and hand conditioning dit da jows in the world!
